

O.U. STEEL DRUM BAND TO CLOSE LUNCHTIME CONCERT SERIES

Wednesday, 30 September 2009

The Norman Downtowners Association and the Performing Arts Studio present the University of Oklahoma Steel Drum Band as the final Lunchtime Concert of the season. The band will transport the audience to the islands with a performance on the north lawn of Norman's historic Santa Fe Depot, 200 S. Jones Ave., from noon to 1 p.m. Friday, October 9. There is no admission charge.

A free lunch will feature Mark Amspatcher's award-winning chili from The Diner.

The University of Oklahoma Steel Drum Band was formed in 1987 and is comprised of both music and non-music majors. The group performs throughout Norman and Oklahoma City. The band also is committed to educational outreach, offering concerts, master classes and workshops to elementary, secondary and university students and groups.